FOUNDATION 2 GEOGRAPHY

By the end of F2 I will have added to my sticky Geography knowledge to include:

Locational Knowledge

There are different places in the world and people live in some in some of them.

Some places like London are close to us and will be similar to us with their weather.

Places that a further away might have very different weather e.g. in Africa or the North Pole.

Place Knowledge

Finningley is the village where school is.

Blaxton is the next village and it has houses that look similar, a playing field and a village hall.

There are many farms around Finningley and Blaxton as there is lots of open space.

Africa is made up of lots of different countries like the United Kingdom, but is much hotter and has lots of deserts as there is less rain.

Human and Physical Geography

Some places have features that have been there before humans lived there like grass, rivers and hills.

Some places have features that have been added by humans like houses, shops and farms.

Buildings in Africa are sometimes very different to the ones in Finningley and Blaxton.

Geographical skills and fieldwork

Maps can be useful to help us know where things are.

Maps show us where things are in a place we visit.

Maps can be used to help us draw simple pictures.

Maps can help us decide where to build new things.
